A series of hand-drawn circles and a wavy line on lined paper. The circles are drawn with a dark, textured material, possibly charcoal or a dry brush, and are arranged in a horizontal row. The wavy line is drawn with a similar material and is located to the right of the circles. The circles vary in size and are drawn on a background of horizontal lines.

You must Create a Moon in Thyself

The real moon is the master manipulator of all actions and deeds on Earth. It creates the tides and influences the weather. The phases of the moon are very important in magickal work. The menstrual cycle is also somehow usually tied to the movement of the moon.

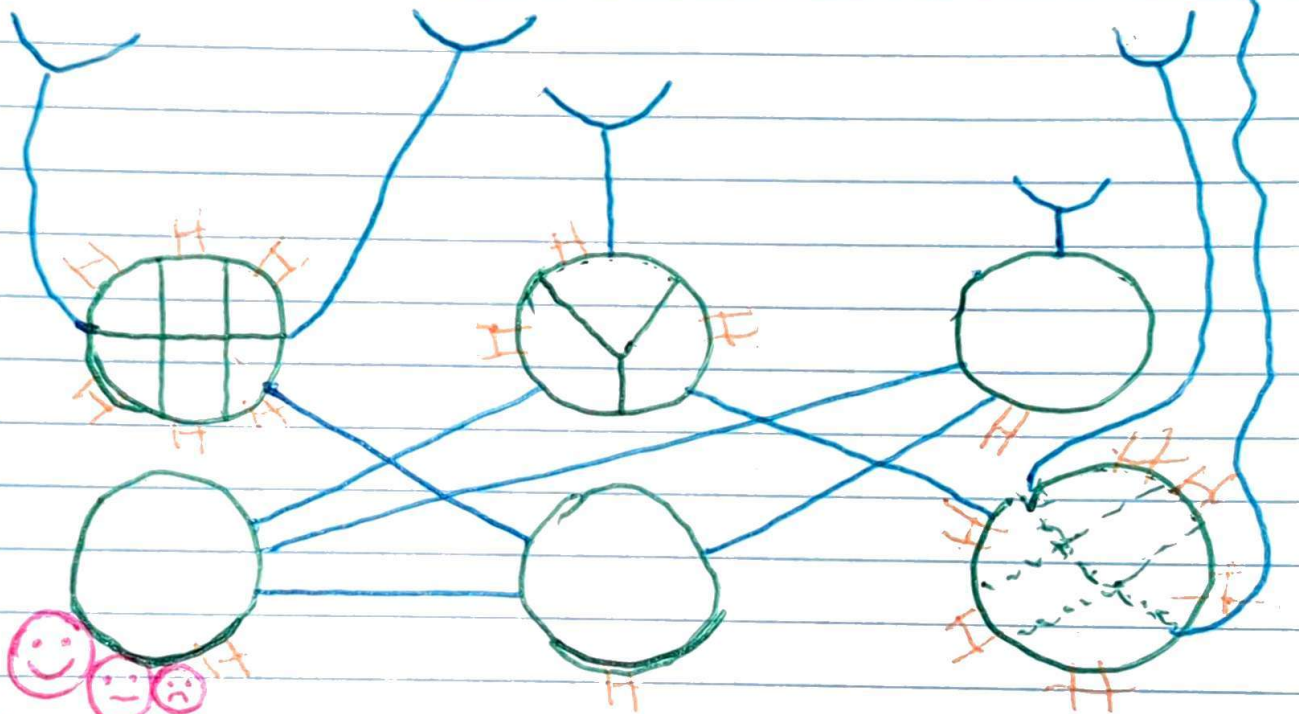

Therefore, to create a moon means to possess a center of gravity. We wish to create a permanent moon so we need an absolute center of gravity. Also if the moon is imaginary, only in the Mind in the Physical Body, rubbish! The moon must be made out of energy, and it must be a combination of will of presence, will of attention, and force of adoration. These will carry the necessary H to the appropriate place. As for how to build it with the Hydrogen, you will have most studied, trained, practiced, and learned for years before you will measure properly in order to remember it when you need it; much less have any furtherance of your aims, and dreams. . . .

Chris

I, Hermes, think that I have already never had so much fun. Let us hear each other fully. Let us know each other completely. You, Chas, have executed this Work most faithfully. We will all try, I trust, to listen to this body of Work in all future instances. This maze of contradictions called life can be very confusing. To traverse its length, we must work together.

I, Gurdjieff, came, saw, and conquered. The biggest thing I learned when I was alive was the fact that there can be multiple existences at the same time. Chas, we are alive and well. We exist simultaneously on many planes at the very same time. I, Gurdjieff, liked to repeat myself a lot when I was living among you. This is a fact. I repeated many octaves thousands of times. Inner octaves are those which are included inside single notes.

I, Ouspensky, do solemnly swear to keep my word to you, Gurdjieff, and incarnate with your entire family and yourself.

This is Plato. I chose orange to write in to discuss this boy's illustrious past. For starters, he was born in biblical circumstances in Monroeville, Alabama, U.S. He was born with his umbilical cord around his neck. He has always wondered what this meant. I will tell you now if you are ready. You tried to kill yourself in the distant future. Had we not intervened in this process you would have succeeded. I, Plato, have much more to add. This medium will have to suffice. How is it I speak English? I have studied this boy ever since I was a child in the work. He exists outside space and time. How is this possible you ask? Well, we all "exist" outside space and time. These are mental, human constructions that only serve us while we exist in human bodies. Am I coming through clearly? Being human is temporary.

I, Plato, choose purple in order to seem cool. Purple and orange go well together. You will read this and conclude that Chas here is insane. But I assure you that he is not. He is quite sane and quite logical. In fact, I have never met anyone quite so. What I have to say now might hurt his feelings on a superficial level. You will never be on our level. You are a channel, nothing more. Haha, just kidding. We get this a lot. Kid less, be more. Seriously. Done. Note. Ha, ha, ha. Just kidding. Not! Listen, this is done most carefully. When you channel us, we channel your world too. If you can hear me, you will know that we trust you implicitly. Explicitly, we trust that you will always trust us as well. If you have any questions, feel free to address me first since I was the first to come through. Otherwise, let us rest in peace in our respective Hells. Try to not disturb the peace like you did today by running that red light. We all saw you and laughed.

I, Gurdjieff, will tell you why we use this format. God, in his Endless glory, protects the weak in their foolishness. Why, we do not fully understand. It has something to do with energy and the general common cosmic harmony. I, Gurdjieff, will put it in the best way I know how. There is only ignorance, no evil. Evil does not exist here. Everything serves a purpose, nothing is wasteful. Even devils serve an important purpose like this kid here. He has read and studied my work so much that he is now channelling me in my old age. I wish to clarify something else while I'm at it. This boy will never get what he wants while alive. You will not get what you want b/c you never asked the right questions. This boy asked the right questions from day one. He will not get what he wants because God has denied him the proper opportunities. As far as I know, it is always one or the other. Awakening comes first in this boy's life and that is what makes him special in His Endlessness's eyes.

I, Plato, have something to say, when you look back over your life from over here, you notice the good not the bad. There is never enough. Therefore, always strive to achieve more and more. Socrates was a great man. I loved him and his work dearly, But people did not. They scorned and despised him. Get used to the idea that the people around you will most likely never understand you. We, your spiritual friends and allies, who have watched over you since you were born have been waiting for this opportunity to speak to you for a very long time. Do not disappoint us! Especially old G - he never knew in life if he had succeeded in saving the world. Neither did I. We never know.

This is Gurdjieff, "your man". I have a lot to say, I hope you bear with me. Firstly, try to understand that we will not always be able to come through as Ram says, But when we can you should take full advantage. Second, try to understand that all we say should be taken with a grain of salt. Third, I love you and will never leave you. This card of talks you have ~~was~~ written just for you as you first suspected. Do not lose heart so easily, Chas. We, Plato and I, are your closest friends Ram and Hermes have too much to do only to devote themselves to even their own work. This is sad, not funny. We limit our influence to you and a few others in the hopes that this increased focus will serve the world. Make no jokes about it, the world is fucked up. But we have certain assurances and have taken appropriate measures such as this one. Trust in yourself and your God. We are only humble messengers. His kindness has sent you for one reason alone: to save humanity from certain destruction. Your suffering has not been in vain.

I, Plato, have the following to add to Gurdjieff. I have often wondered what I would say to him given the chance. Gurdjieff, you lazy son of a bitch. Just saying. Why don't you just tell the World in the form of a dialogue like me? Haha gotcha! Look at his tales as you would read one of mine. That is all.

This is Hermes. I wanted to drop by to add to this discussion. Many things are possible in life. This is not one of them. Be grateful for this opportunity. You went to sleep because you were "down" when you had planned to be with us. This better not happen again. When you plan with us, stay with us. That is all.

This time we're gonna try something difficult. We're gonna let you come through. Be next you. Be one who is uniting this as we speak. Try to ask a question or two and then answer it yourself. Begin now in blue

- ① - What is the best way to find the truth in lies?
- ② - Why aren't people "good"?
- ③ - What causes messengers from Above to fail?

① See what fits with what you already trust and discard what does not. If you are unsure of something, leave it for later but be sure not to teach what you do not know.
